THE PARTIES

2. Plaintiff Nordic is a Delaware corporation residing in and having a principal place of business in St-Leonard, Quebec, Canada.

3. Defendant Health Research Laboratories, LLC (“HRL”) is, upon information and belief, a Nevada limited liability company residing in and having a principal place of business in

5. The Defendants designated herein as Does 1 through 10 (the “Doe Defendants”) are presently unknown to Nordic. Each of the Doe Defendants was and is the agent, servant, employee, partner, alter ego, subcontractor, owner and/or joint venturer of each of the other Defendants, and in doing all of the things alleged herein, each was acting within the scope of such agency, employment, partnership, ownership and/or joint venture, and was acting as the alter ego of each other Defendant. Upon information and belief, the acts and conduct herein alleged of each Doe Defendant were known to, authorized by and/or ratified by the other Defendants. Nordic will seek leave of the Court to amend this Complaint to set forth the true names, identities and capacities of the Doe Defendants when ascertained.

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

11. Since at least 2014, Nordic has developed, manufactured and offered in commerce a diverse inventory of high-quality dietary and nutritional supplements.

12. Nordic advertises and sells its dietary and nutritional supplements throughout the United States through, inter alia, distinctive and creative direct mail marketing campaigns.

Nordic's Copyright-Protected Materials

13. One of the direct mail marketing materials developed by Nordic is a mailer that advertises and promotes Nordic's hydration drink mix HydraBurst™ (the "HydraBurst™ Mailer").

14. The HydraBurst™ Mailer was created in 2015 and first published on or about March 27, 2015.

15. Nordic is the exclusive owner of all common law rights, title and interest in and to the HydraBurst™ Mailer and all original portions thereof including, but not limited to, the original written text and artwork, and compilation of same, on each page of the HydraBurst™ Mailer (collectively, the "Copyright-Protected Work").

16. Nordic registered its Copyright-Protected Work under United States law in strict conformity with the Copyright Act (Reg. No. TX0008258975) to protect against unauthorized infringement and consumer confusion – prima facie evidence of the validity of the copyright and its ownership by Nordic. Attached hereto as Exhibit 1 is a true and correct copy of the Copyright-Protected Work's Certificate of Registration.

17. The Copyright-Protected Work contains clear and conspicuous copyright management information, including Nordic's name, address, telephone number and other identifying information.

18. Nordic has devoted significant time, expense and effort in the development of the Copyright-Protected Work, and has had significant marketing success in connection therewith.

19. The originality and creativity of the Copyright-Protected Work are fundamental to Nordic's reputation and garner substantial and valuable goodwill with consumers.

Nordic's Trade Dress

20. Nordic owns exclusive rights in inherently distinctive forms of trade dress including, but not limited to, the size, shape, color and/or color combinations, designs, graphics and/or sales techniques of the Copyright-Protected Work and portions thereof (collectively, the "Nordic Trade Dress").

21. The Nordic Trade Dress has a unique, non-functional and inherently distinctive design that designates a single source of origin.

22. Since long prior to the acts complained of herein, Nordic began continuously and extensively using the Nordic Trade Dress in connection with the advertising and sale of dietary and nutritional supplements.

23. The Nordic Trade Dress has acquired secondary meaning, which identifies and distinguishes Nordic's quality dietary and nutritional supplements from goods offered by other companies.

24. Since long prior to the acts complained of herein, the Nordic Trade Dress has been, and continues to be, widely publicized through substantial advertising throughout the United States including, but not limited to, the State of Texas and this District.

25. Through substantial sales and advertising expenditures, the Nordic Trade Dress has become a valuable asset and well-known symbol of Nordic's substantial goodwill throughout the United States.

26. Nordic has invested hundreds of thousands of dollars and substantial time, labor and skill to create strong brand awareness of the Nordic Trade Dress among prospective customers throughout the United States.

27. As a result, since long prior to Defendants' unauthorized and confusingly similar use of the Nordic Trade Dress, the Nordic Trade Dress had become widely recognized among the consuming public of the United States as a trusted source of quality Nordic dietary and nutritional supplements.

Defendants and Their Wrongful Conduct

28. Defendants HRL and Duhon manufacture and offer in commerce various dietary and nutritional supplements in direct competition with Nordic including, but not limited to, a hydration drink mix named "Hydroxin."

29. In or about August 2016, Defendants copied, reproduced, distributed, displayed and/or prepared derivative work(s) from the Copyright-Protected Work and portions thereof, without Nordic's consent (the "Infringing Work").

30. Defendants have willfully and unlawfully misappropriated substantial and virtually identical portions of Nordic's Copyright-Protected Work by and through the Infringing Work, in many instances only substituting their own false copyright management information for those of Nordic.

31. At the time of commencing their use of the Infringing Work, Defendants knew or should have known of Nordic and Nordic's HydraBurstTM supplement, Copyright-Protected Work and Nordic Trade Dress. Moreover, on September 23, 2016, Nordic's counsel delivered legal correspondence to Defendants HRL and Duhon demanding that they cease and desist from their infringing conduct.

32. Further, the Infringing Work incorporates the Nordic Trade Dress, which is distinctively associated with Nordic and its dietary and nutritional supplements.

33. Defendants have used the Infringing Work – a confusingly and substantially similar variation of the Nordic Trade Dress – to promote and offer in commerce the dietary and nutritional supplement Hydroxin, which is essentially identical to Nordic's HydraBurst[™] dietary and nutritional supplement.

34. Defendants widely distributed the Infringing Work as their own through direct mail – the same primary channel of trade as Nordic.

35. The sole business conducted by Defendants by and through the Infringing Work appears to be deceptively misappropriating and capitalizing upon Nordic's Copyright-Protected Work and Nordic Trade Dress for economic gain.

36. The foregoing acts of Defendants are likely to cause, and upon information and belief have actually caused, consumer confusion as to: (a) the source and quality of the respective products offered by Nordic and Defendants; and (b) Defendants' association, affiliation, endorsement and/or sponsorship with/by Nordic.

37. As a result, Defendants are harming and deceiving consumers and irreparably damaging the goodwill associated with Nordic and the Nordic Trade Dress.

38. Defendants' infringing activities display a conscious disregard for Nordic's intellectual property rights.

39. At no time has Nordic authorized or consented to Defendants' use of the Copyright-Protected Work, the Nordic Trade Dress or any other Nordic intellectual property.

40. Nordic has performed all conditions precedent necessary to maintain the instant action that have not been otherwise waived or excused.
